Disagreement in Club Highlights Court Plea For Liquor License

The disagreement within Lower Pottsgrove Sportsmen's association over the liquor license question was the center of legal argument yesterday as the association made a court appeal of the State Liquor Control board's refusal to grant the license.

Arguing before Montgomery County President Judge Harold G. Knight and Judges George C. Corson and William F. Dannehower, the attorney representing the association, Louis Sager, maintained the board's ruling was "not based on competent evidence and testimony." As the result of a hearing the past Sept. 10, the board handed down an order on Dec. 11, refusing the license. The decision said:

"The evidence offered at the hearing discloses that while this is a bona fide club which complies with the statutory requirements, many of the members who have been connected with the organization from its inception some years ago, strongly oppose the granting of a club liquor license."

The board said the opposing nembers felt that way because a quor license "would be detrinental to the program which has been followed by the club for some time in the matter of instructing the youth of the community in hunting activities and the safe and efficient handling of firearms."

YOUR GEM STORY FOR TODAY

Since this is our first column of the New Year, we think it fitting to describe the birthstone for this first month of the yearthe beautiful Garnet.

Most people think the garnet to be a muddy red stone, something like the ruby, only much duller. In reality, the garnet may occur in many colors. These various colored gems have been given distinguishing names, but they are all Garnets. The Demantoid, an emerald green stone, has the brilliance of the Diamond; whereas the Grossularite, another green stone, approaches the beauty of

Finally, the dark red garnets are called Pyrope and Almandite. The Pyrope is the familiar gem of much antique jewelry and is commonly called the Bokemian Garnet.

The name garnet comes from the Latin "Granatus" meaning seedlike. Small crystals embedded in the mother rock do resemble seeds or fat raisins in a pudding. This gem was known thousands of years before Christ and is mentioned in early Biblical writings as the carbuncle.

All in all, those people born in January have a beautiful and historic birthstone. And, as mentioned above, the wearers may have their choice of a wide variety of colors to suit their every taste.

him that a stone is present. He may develop a severe cramp-like pain so excruciating that he screams for relief. Strong doses of narcotics are 'usually needed to dull the pain. Sometimes stones get lodged in the ureter, the tube leading from the kidney to the bladder. If this happens, the urine flow is stopped and the kidney may become useless in time. Kidney stones can also form silently in the kidney itself, causing damage and disturbance to the entire kidney. For the person who passes numerous kidney stones at regular intervals for a period of years, physicians have los sought ways to prevent their forming.

Many kidney stones are made of the phosphate compounds. It is found that these stones can be very effectively controlled by giving large daily doses of aluminum hydroxide gels. These forms of medicine have a consistency of a jelly-The patients are also put on a diet supplying small amounts of phosphorus and rang and Mrs. Dorothy was told her cousin, Edna Phillis, Philadelphia, had died.

That put a pall over the dinner. Then, this, our first lesson of the new year, is so very timely and applicable to us in our modern world, that we should read it earnestly and try to shape our daily living to His words. Who among us is not guilty of being most punctilious in following the forms of our beliefs-its rules of conduct in relation to partaking of the sacrament, praying on our knees, etc.? However, in our attitude toward our fellowmen we are lax-often careless-sometimes even cruel-toward those we encounter in everyday life..

Ponder on Jesus' words in rebuking those who criticized His disciples. Scribes and Pharisees came to Jesus, sent from Jerusalem, saying, "Why do Thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not and Sidon." A woman came to their hands when they eat

The Phansees were the most legally minded Jews of the times. They were very orthodox and strict in their obedience to the laws of the temple, and merciless to those who were not so strict. They kept themselves away from the Gentiles, and enforced the most minute details of the traditions that had grown up around the holy teachings. The scribes were esteemed for interpreting the will of God. These two groups did not criticize Christ, but His disciples. Orthodox Jews were supposed to wash their hands after coming out of the market, for instance, walking down a street, or possibly, brushing against a Gentile. It was not a matter of personal cleanliness. such as washing before eating when one comes home from work, etc. Jesus' answer to these critics was: "Why do ye also transgress traditions?" He pointed out that God commanded that they honor their. parents, but they often got around that duty by giving a gift which was dedicated to God, and could not be put to any secular use even for such an honorable purpose as aiding needy parents.

II Cor. 4:6 - "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shinedin our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

This verse is especially timely for the tragic days in which we live. Its reference to God who was able to bring light out of the primeval chaos gives us hope that his eternal light has power to conquer the black darkness of our age. The beginning of such conquest is always the lighting up of the individual heart, for only as individuals are changed can the world finally be redeemed.

The light of true wisdom and the ultimate glory of God have always been seen at their clearest in individuals who have been completely dedicated to doing His will. This is true of the great Hebrew prophets, Amos, Hosea, Isaiah and Jeremiah.

The Christian sees the Glory of God most fully, in that greatest of the Jewish prophets yes, and more than a propher - Jesus of Nazareth. By His life, teachings, deeds, death and resurrection we have seen the ineffable glory of the living God in the face of the One we call our Lord Jesus Christ.
